

The grounded Terry Scott causes panic in the Hungerford penalty area during Monday's Berks and Bucks Senior Cup final at Marlow.

ENFIELD will be without striker Keith Searle for their crucial Berger Isthmian League visit to Wycombe Wanderers at Loakes Park tomorrow (Saturday). Searle, a former Wanderer, has left the Middlesex club because of business commitments. He has just taken a new engineering job in Milton Keynes.

Searle's place in the side is taken by the tall postman Tony Bass. Enfield must win if they are to keep up the chase of leaders Barking and win the league title for the fourth successive season. To counter the threat of Bass, Andy Williams could well bring back Alan Phillips, who has returned from his three week business trip to America and is now available for selection. He could replace Keith Mead. Blues, who can still finish as high as third in the table, will be going all out for victory to record a double over the champions after their 4-1 success at Claremont Road back in September.

Maskell picked

JOHN MASKELL
... a bit surprised

JOHN Maskell, Wycombe's veteran goalkeeper has been rewarded for his fine form this season by being picked for the Isthmian League squad to meet the Southern League in the O.C.S. Inter-League tournament at Maidstone on Sunday, April 29.

Maskell, who joined Wycombe way back in 1963 and who will be 36 on May 1, is the only Loakes Park man in the squad of 18 for a match which will help to decide selection for the England Non-League XI in an international tournament later this year.

Naturally Maskell, who never gained an England amateur international cap because of the presence of long-serving John Swannell, is delighted if slightly stunned by his selection.

"It's a bit of a surprise at my age," he said. "But if you look round, the good players are still the same as they were seven or eight years ago. There are few youngsters coming up and it's not a healthy state."

The side will be managed by the former Wycombe manager Brian Lee, who is currently a vice-chairman of the club. Mr Lee, who picked the side, has long been an admirer of Maskell's qualities.

One Wycombe man, who misses out is highly-rated right back Paul Birdseye. But Mr Lee prefers Tony Jennings of Enfield, who have five players in the squad. Dulwich's Ossie Bayram is not selected, possibly because of his excitable temperament but Leatherhead's Chris Kelly is included.

THE SQUAD

John Maskell (Wycombe), Terry Moore (Enfield), Tony Jennings (Enfield), Mick O'Sullivan (Enfield), John Bishop (Enfield), Ken Eley (Enfield), Bobby Green (Tooting), Larry Pritchard (Sutton United), John Raine (Sutton United), Chris Kelly (Leatherhead), Keith Barnett (Barking), Nick Ironton (Barking), Chris Ballard (Barking), Dennis Bond (Dagenham), Joe Dunwell (Dagenham), Neville Fox (Dagenham), Peter Sharratt (Harrow Borough), Paul Edwards (Dulwich Hamlet).
